BUSINESS IS BETTER.

Improved Trade Outlook Regardless of Presidential Campaign.

At Washington Treasury officials are very much encouraged by the growing indications that business is not going to suffer as a result of the presidential campaign now at hand. From every part of the country comes evidence of the phenomenon of improving business on the eve of a presidential election.

Even with the best of business conditions, there will still be a deficit and a large one, but with receipts going up instead of down the deficit can be viewed with more or less equanimity.

This condition becomes all the more mystifying in view of the fact that both parties are advocating revision of the tariff schedules.

Not only are both parties committed to revision of the tariff, but both will go before the country giving promise that they continue the war on business corruption inaugurated by Mr. Roosevelt. And even this is not sufficient to throw business into a spasm of fear. The crops are ripening without any regard to the political issues of the day. Railroads and industries are putting men at work who have been idle.

Students of economics are asking if this means the divorce of business and politics.

There is today no vital economic differences between the policies of the two great parties. Both are advocating substantially the same governmental policies, so far as business is affected.

And business, finding there are no issues between the parties seriously affecting its interests, loses its interest.

MADISONVILLE

Goes "Dry" By Thirty-Seven Majority.

The local option election held in Madisonville Wednesday resulted in a victory for the "drys" by a majority of 37 votes. The campaign was a warm one for the past three weeks, men, women and children, colored and white, engaging in the fight.

At 5 o'clock Wednesday morning prayer services were held at every church in the city, which was continued every hour during the day until the polls closed. At 6 o'clock several hundred children marched through the streets carrying banners and singing prohibition songs. The children marched about the streets several times during the day, singing songs and carrying their banners. A big meeting was held in front of the courthouse and fully 1,500 people were present. Union prayer services were later held at the Tabernacle.

There are twelve saloons in Madisonville. The licenses of several will expire this year, while others have just recently been renewed, and the last saloon to go out will be July 7, 1909. The election held a few years ago was carried by the "wets" by over 200 majority.

Combs Lumber Company.

The Combs Lumber Company, of Lexington, is building a large warehouse and lumber plant on West High street. The plant, when completed, is to be one of the largest in Central Kentucky. The plan is to consolidate the offices on East Main and West High streets in this new structure.

No man is guiltless who causes another to go down in dishonor.

PREACHER IS KILLED IN HIS PULPIT.

Struck By Lightning While Conducting Revival Services.

China, Tex., July 6.—While shaking hands with a convert the Rev. T. H. Feggin, who was conducting the revival service here, was struck and killed by a bolt of lightning. "God bless you, brother and preserve" were his last words.

He was a prominent Baptist minister and has been conducting a revival service in the Baptist church. He had just finished his sermon and had called on the sinners to come forward and repent, when a rain and electrical storm of great violence broke forth.

The preacher, leaning forward from his pulpit, was shaking hands with the persons who had answered his appeal. Before he could finish the sentence or release his hold on the outstretched hand the bolt came.

It penetrated the roof of the edifice, tearing away part of the covering and wrecking the pulpit. The pastor dropped to the floor without a word.

WINCHESTER.

(Sun-Sentinel.)

What's the matter with Tom Stuart for Vice President? He is a better man than Ollie James.

Lucien Beckner is in a hospital in Louisville, where he was operated on on Thursday.

The postal receipts for the quarter, ending July 1, was $618 more than for the same three months last year.

Mrs. John Dawson died at her home on Howard's Upper Creek.

W. F. Neal and wife, of Menford, Ontario, Canada, are guests of Mrs. Neal's parents, Elder and Mrs. J. W. Harding.

Winchester will soon have what has been needed for years, an up-to-date machine shop. Mr. Chas. Hagan will be the proprietor.

James Dixon, of Jackson county, and Lottie Toy, of Owensville, were married Tuesday night, July 7, at 10 o'clock, at the County Clerk's office, Judge J. H. Evans officiating.

Joe, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Jackson, while attempting to get out of a break cart, caught his foot in the wheel and fell, breaking his arm above the wrist.

Wheat did not turn out as well as the growth of straw and the appearance of the heads indicated.

Corn planted early is in fine condition. Late planted is far behind.

At the Council meeting Friday night, early in the action, one of the members moved to adjourn, saying: "The longer we stay here, the bigger fools we make of ourselves." Woods, McCord said: "No danger. You have already gone the limit."

Every true lady and gentleman will have self respect and consideration for others enough to refrain from giggling and talking during any public entertainment. It is not only a very selfish practice, but it is extremely conspicuous and rude.

The Winchester Railway, Light & Ice Company have received their new 270 K. W. Dynamo and preparations are being made to install same at once. They have also purchased a 320-horse power Westinghouse Gas Engine of the latest make, the largest gas engine in the State.

We believe in a rural free delivery. Every farmer should have bills on the first of the month.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

The Circus Trust, the Latest Addition to the Long List of Monopolies Tries to Cut Out the Parade.

When the circus trust was formed last winter, the heads of the organization assembled and decided to try and eliminate the parade as a feature in the coming circus season. The enormous rearing, rearing, painting and trapping each year was the cause, and without a thought that of discomfort and disappointment of their thousands of little friends who each season with their nite had made possible the success of these big shows they decreed that the parade must go and the members of the trust without a voice dissenting, voted yes, but they had reckoned without a host, for of course to make this rule effective all the circuses, whether in the combine or not, must be induced to give up their parade, so they sent a representative to those who for reasons of their own were not in the trust and he said to the credit of the Robinsons, they refused point blank to give up their parade, and the scheme fell through. Recognizing as they do that many of their little friends are not always able to attend when the show comes to the city they have always provided a parade upon which a wealth of time and money is spent each year and it will always be one of the features of the John Robinson Big Circus as it has been every season of the eighty-six years that they have catered to the amusement loving public of this country. Will exhibit here on Thursday, July 16.

TRUST HAS LOW GRADE TOBACCO

And Independent Manufacturers Are Hard Up.

Developments tend to show that the independent tobacco concerns are at the mercy of the American Tobacco Company, better known as the Trust, and are in a position to be ruthlessly "squeezed" if not put out of business by their powerful competitor.

The American Tobacco Company, through its representatives and brokers, bought up all the lower grades of Burley tobacco now in the pool of the Equity Society, leaving only the higher grades unsold.

The official statement was made from the Society headquarters that all the lower grades had been disposed of, but it was not stated who got it.

Now these Independent concerns have been using low grades, scheduled at 15 cents a pound and under, buying a few hogheads each week as needed, believing that the supply in the pool would last indefinitely, until the 1907 crop was on the market.

The Independents have awakened to the fact that somebody, presumably the Trust, has cornered the supply of low grade tobacco, and there is none to be had for love or money.

The only thing that offers any promise of relief is for the Burley Society to put the 1907 crop on the market and give the Independents a chance at the lower grades of that crop.

If you haven't the time to exercise regularly, Don's Reglets will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c. 51-5

PLAN

For Ridding the Church of Unfaithful Members Arouses Interest.

Religious circles have been deeply interested by the recent action of the Central Christian Church, of Lexington, in proposing that all members who do not regularly attend or contribute to the church, shall be denied the privileges of a member in good standing and shall be refused letters to other churches. This proposition is qualified by the provision that, should the "backslider" show signs of overcoming his or her delinquencies, he or she may be taken back into the church at the expiration of six months, this being a "probation" period, before the new church register is prepared.

It is also further resolved that a new fellowship register be provided for the church in which only the names of those members who are active, or who are members in spirit as well as in name. In determining the names which shall be written in the new register, the following questions shall apply:

First—Do they show an interest in the church?

Second—Do they bear a reputation for honesty and morality?

Third—Do they attend the church services as they should attend?

Fourth—Do they observe the Lord's Supper as they should observe it?

Fifth—Do they contribute faithfully for the support and spread of the Gospel?

Sixth—If faithful in the past, do they now promise sincerely to do better?

The board of church officers who submitted the proposition have decided to defer voting on it until the autumn, as it is a matter of such far-reaching importance.

Goebel Monument Ready to Come.

The $15,000 monument to be erected in the Frankfort Cemetery over the grave of William Goebel has been completed and is now ready for shipment. It will require several freight cars to transport the ponderous stones comprising the base. The statue is a tentative figure of Goebel about ten feet high. Both the monument and statue will reach Frankfort in the next thirty days. The unveiling will probably not take place until the next anniversary of Goebel's death in February, 1909.

Keeps Them Healthy.

Chas. Stephenson, Clintonville, Ky., says: "I cured my boys with Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy and have since used it as a preventive and they have not been troubled with this ailment or sickness." Sold by W. S. Lloyd.

Big Famine in Russia is Expected During Winter.

The likelihood of another famine in Russia during the coming winter was admitted by a representative of the Ministry of the Interior in the Duma, in answer to an interpellation regarding the present condition of Russian crops. Two-thirds of the winter wheat is a failure in eighteen provinces, the Southern district being the worst off. Two and one-half million acres of land have not been seeded.

Warm weather in June and an abundance of rain in the center and south have somewhat improved the prospect of the spring wheat crop, but nevertheless relief measures on a large scale will be necessary both for seeding and feeding purposes.

A GOOD REASON.

Mt. Sterling People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Don's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poison that causes backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Mt. Sterling people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. H. J. Porter, living at 64 Richmond Ave., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I know that Don's Kidney Pills can cure kidney trouble as my husband used them for four years and they entirely cured him. He had suffered from an aggravated case of backache and an aching through his limbs caused him misery. Don's Kidney Pills were recommended to him. He procured a box at F. C. Duerksen's drug store, and they benefited him so much that he continued taking them until cured. I have known of other people who have used Don's Kidney Pills and I can recommend them as a valuable kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Don's—and take no other.

The Scott County Fair will be held at Georgetown, July 28, 29, 30, 31 and August 1.

WHICH IS IT?

The question, "What is a Democrat?" can be pertinently asked. Two of America's most prominent citizens claim to be Democrats: Henry Watterson, editor of the Courier-Journal, and Ben Tillman, Senator from South Carolina. Discussing prohibition, Mr. Watterson said: "No man can be a prohibitionist and a Democrat." Senator Tillman in a recent speech on the same subject, said:

"I don't want a saloon or blind tiger next to my home, and I am not going to have one there. I have as much respect for law as any man, but think that I have the right, under the common law, as well as under the statute law, to abate an undisputable nuisance, and, if nothing else will suffice, it can be abated by the open, notorious and orderly use of dynamite."

We don't agree with Mr. Watterson.

Tillman's act in South Carolina would not be right in Kentucky.

NO DEMORALIZING METHODS.

We clip the following from the Agitator of Menefee County and commend this declaration to the candidates throughout the state.

WHERE DO YOU STAND?

Believing that the people are against the use of whisky in our primary elections, and feeling a sense of duty that this is right and should not be tolerated, we, the following candidates, pledge ourselves to the good citizens that we will not engage in demoralizing methods to secure our nomination, and have authorized the placing of our names below, that you may know where we stand.

W. L. Craig, B. C. Buchanan, E. D. Luckey, L. D. Beck, John Helton, J. B. Lewis.

If a man expects to be free from demoralizing methods in his politics, he must be free from the same in his morals. If a man lies, steals or commits in political affairs.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

In reply to the request made by the Lexington District Methodist Conference to Gov. Wilson for an extra session of the Legislature for the passage of a County Unit bill, the Governor declines at present to consider such a session and says that the first matter to be considered, when such session is convened, will be a fair redistricting bill. He declares that a redistricting according to the Constitution has been postponed for years, maintaining a condition that is unjust and unfair. He attributes the defeat of the County Unit bill in last Legislature to the mercenary Senate, which by a party independent of three Republican votes sidetracked the bill.

FOR FARMERS.

We can not too strongly impress on farmers and live stock breeders the importance attached to the series of lectures to be given in city on July 29 and 30 under the Agricultural Department of State.

Each should plan to be here, to your own experience the new ideas, discoveries and resources given by the lecturers, many farmers and other business lose out because they do not know latest methods, facts and observations.

If Bryan is nominated for President he will be beaten worse this fall than he was in 1896 and 1900. Mark this prediction.—Gazette.

We will tell you later.

BRYAN AND KERN.

In this issue is a six-column account of the Democratic National Convention at Denver. Read it. From time to time we will have many interesting facts about the campaign. Clip the platform for future reference.

In considering the financial success of a man the question of first importance is not how much he has, but how did he get it. Does he pay his debts? Does he tell the truth? Does he deliver what and as much as he sells?

Oil for Convention.

Honor is to be thrust upon someone at East Springs today in a Democratic nomination for Congress. On Tuesday morning the following left our city on C. & O.: H. R. Prewitt, R. G. Kern, C. D. Grubbs, W. B. White and Coleman Reid. The following drove through: G. B. Swango, J. G. Trimble, J. E. W. Smith and Grover Anderson.

Judge Amos Davis, of Morgan, spent Monday night here and left with delegates on train. For the third time he is a candidate for Congress and goes to the convention with a fair prospect of getting the nomination. So far as instructed votes are concerned the race is between him and Judge S. S. Taulbee, of Breathitt. Mr. Hager, with other Johnson delegates, were on same train. The writer hoped to go, but office duty on press day prevented.

Later report indicates that 290 delegates will be present and that the nomination will go to someone not announced.

Thinking of Moving West?

If not, then make up your mind and write me for descriptive list of farms in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, all time level, productive land that will grow anything under the sun, at prices ranging from $15 to $40 an acre, and come where life is made tolerable by easy, profitable farming. Why sweat and free live away in the vain effort to eke out a mere miserable existence from those rock-ribbed, tree-fenced hill-sides as your father and father's father did, when there is so much good land to be had yet available for a mere song? Get out of the rats—break away from the time-worn habit that keeps you near to the grindstone. All it takes is resolution and a little nerve. Write me and let me help you to a better condition.

I. N. PHIPPS, Chanute, Kansas.

Democratic Victory.

"To Bryan and John W. Kern, the Democratic National Convention at Denver, in my judgment, nominated the strongest ticket within its power," said United States Senator J. B. McCrory in the Seelbach at Louisville Sunday.

"The platform adopted is the most decisive and positive declaration that has been enunciated by the Democratic party within the last thirty years. With such a ticket and such a platform resulting from the most harmonious convention that I have ever attended five in such a capacity with a united Democracy and a divided Republican party—I am hopeful of success next November."

He declared that never in all his life had he returned from a National Convention with such hopes of victory as now filled him.

Walsh Bros. great Cut Price Sale, which has been a pronounced success, will close Monday night, July 29. Take advantage of the prices offered for the few remaining days.

N. H. McNew, County Judge of Nicholas, is a candidate for re-election.

Opposed to Principle of Humanity

At Tokio, Japan, the news of the action of the Democratic National Convention at Denver, including in its platform a plank favoring the exclusion from the United States of Asiatic laborers is taken to be directed against Japanese and is causing considerable surprise and displeasure. The declaration is made that such a course is an infringement on the treaty rights of Japan and opposed to the principle of humanity that should govern the relations of nations.

For detailed information of an all expense paid circle trip to Niagara Falls, $25.00 covering entire expense from Mt. Sterling, date August 15, call on or write 1-41 Mrs. Jas. H. Wood.

Leaf Tobacco of Very Small Volume.

A very small volume of business was transacted on the Louisville tobacco breaks last week. Auction sales were only 331 hogheads, private sales amounting to 1,087 and included 699 hogheads of the old Burley belonging to the Society of Equity which were only sampled. All grades of new Burley showed an upward tendency. In view of the curtailed crop this year, Burley tobaccos have not advanced to the extent expected.

CONGRESSIONAL

Montgomery Sends an Uninstructed Delegation.

On Saturday the County Democratic Congressional Convention was called to order by E. W. Smith. Judge B. F. Day was called to the chair. Squire Turner and B. W. Trimble were elected secretaries. The resolutions endorsed W. J. Bryan, approved the platform adopted at National Convention, recognized the compliment shown our countyman, Coleman Reid, by many Democrats in different counties, who had favorably spoken of his prospective candidacy for Congress; sent an uninstructed delegation to the district convention on (Wednesday) in session at Irvine. Mr. Reid yielded to requests of friends for a speech. He referred to the loyalty of his ancestors to Democracy, exhorted the leadership of the great Nelsons and pleaded for unstinted devotion to the fundamental principles of the Democratic party.

Sunday School Convention.

The Montgomery County Convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association will be held on August 27, 1908, with the Camargo Christian Church. The Sunday Schools of all the churches in this county are invited and expected to co-operate in this one day convention for the betterment of the Sunday School. Plan now to attend. See programs later. Will not the churches of Mt. Sterling follow suit? Take a census of the church and Sunday School status of the inhabitants of this city. If properly planned and carried out the work can be done in a few hours. Then our ministers, superintendents and church workers would have definite work before them, and there would be no need of wasted energy. Who will start it? Will you, or another?

Walsh Bros. great Cut Price Sale, which has been a pronounced success, will close Monday night, July 29. Take advantage of the prices offered for the few remaining days.

Almost a Slick Citizen.

While on a tour for Facts and Observations the writer ran into a hum suspended over the pavement. Our cow-catcher, shielded by a new straw hat, collided with the obstruction, which was immediately sidetracked. We saw the smooth (or slick) side of the situation and are satisfied to say: served him right! Why should a man presume to walk on a pavement, when sign boards, vegetables, meat, shoes, pants, watermelons, hoes, jugs (empty) and various other necessities of life have right of way? He should have stayed in the street where pigs, vehicles, and other horned and dehorned animals are supposed to be.

Extension Granted.

A letter from A. T. Siler, Chairman of Railroad Commission, says that G. B. Wall, Real Estate Agent of C. & O., appeared before Committee on July 1st and asked an extension of sixty days for beginning new depot in our city, assigning as his reason for so doing the present depression of business. The Committee granted him ninety days.

Quite a number of people have decided to join the Niagara Falls Circle Tour, via C. H. & D. railroad, through Ohio to Detroit, through Canada to Niagara Falls, returning via trolley to Buffalo and steamer to Detroit, a delightful trip, $25.00 covers all expense. See Mrs. James Wood for full particulars. 1-41

Fiscal Court.

Montgomery Fiscal Court met last week. The claim of the Brackett-Bridge Company was rejected. The Court allowed about $2,500 in claims.

Is it hot enough for you?

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

At Versailles on Saturday wheat and corn were selling at same price, 85c. The yield of wheat is disappointing, about 70 per cent. of usual yield. Oats are poor. Timothy good.

The wheat in Montgomery is not up to expectations—about 12 bushels. Resin Howell has a 45 acre field (Mrs. Stoner's land) that yielded 25 bushels. This is the best reported.

Believe in Building Up.

When quality can be raised to no higher point Walsh Bros. turn their attention to the comfort of patrons and beautifying their store. This house with an increasing trade is now remodeling and devising plans to carry a larger stock and putting in the most modern fixtures, that by the press of a button will bring their offerings in full view of a customer, showing at all times almost their entire stock by Glass Cabinets and keeping every article free from dust and wrinkles. The room which is already beautifully finished when equipped with the new fixtures will be one of the most comfortable and handsomest in the country and Mt. Sterling will have a clothing store to point to.

Itching Skin Diseases

Are readily cured by Zemo. A liquid for external use. Zemo gives instant relief and permanently cures any form of Itching Skin or Scalp disease. All Druggists. Write for sample. E. W. Rose Med. Co., St. Louis, Mo.

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council met at usual time.

The Robinson Circus was released from paying license, provided the circus would pay expenses of ten extra policemen for the day.

Renewal of expired contract with Mt. Sterling Water, Light & Ice Co. was deferred until next meeting.

The sum of $50 was allowed for oiling streets in front of city property and Court-house.

Real Estate.

H. Clay McKee has for sale and rent, dwellings, business property, farms, vacant lots. 51-41

Menefee County Financial Condition.

From the Agitator we see that Menefee County, after paying $4,741.81 for court house repairs and furniture (including $90.26 for wire fence on Poor House farm) has to let her credit in Menefee Deposit Bank $333. The County Road also has a surplus of $564.72. Thus on June 30 the total surplus is $897.81.

T. F. Rogers sold the Willow street property of J. C. Fitzgerald to John McKinley for $400; also the Kash property for parsonage.

CROOKS.

Roy L. Botts, who travels for I. T. Williams & Son, New York lumbermen, is at home with his mother, Mrs. Amanda Botts, to spend his summer vacation, and leaves about 21st. His territory is Ohio and Michigan.

Wm. Hart lost 1100 lb. steers on Tuesday. They were standing under a tree when lightning struck. Quart tin cans 35c per dozen at The Fair.

Thoroughbreds.

On Tuesday of last week at Sheepshead Bay, New York, 38 Kentucky thoroughbred yearlings sold at public sale by the Fasig-Tipton Co. at an average price of $100 per head. The highest price was $500.

Did Not Go.

Some town people expected to go to Olympia on Saturday night but the train did not run.

John L. Coleman has bought of H. H. Strother a building lot on High street for $1,000, and will erect a handsome two-story brick residence.

JEFFERSON A PROHIBITIONIST.

The Rev. Dr. Cherry Responds
To Mr. Watterson's Articles in Defense of Liquor Selling.

At a meeting at Russellville July 6, the Rev. J. T. Cherry, pastor of the Methodist Church, read a hot response to recent articles in the Courier-Journal in defense of the liquor traffic. The paper is as follows:

In two recent editorials the able editor of the Courier-Journal has prostituted that great journal by attacking Prohibitionists as "moral idiots," "red-nosed angels," etc.

It is amusing that a man of Mr. Watterson's position and ability could so far forget himself as to say such things about the best people of our Commonwealth, many of whom are not only Prohibitionists but also true and ardent Jeffersonian Democrats, who believe in a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

In his editorial of June 4, Mr. Watterson furthermore declares that prohibition "degrades both the people and the law—breeds both hypocrites and law breakers." He also boldly affirms that "no man can be a Prohibitionist and remain a Democrat." But unfortunately for Mr. Watterson Thomas Jefferson, the patron saint of the Democratic party, whom the editor of the Courier-Journal delights to honor as an example of the purest Democracy, is of a different opinion. In his message to Congress Mr. Jefferson said:

We recommend to the several State Legislatures immediately to pass laws putting an immediate stop to the pernicious practice of distilling, by which the most exclusive evils are likely to be derived, if not quickly prevented.

Surely, this makes the very father of the Democratic party: strong Prohibitionist, notwithstanding Mr. Watterson's affirmation that "No man can be a Prohibitionist and be a Democrat." But did the great statesman on this account belong to Mr. Watterson's "moral idiots," "hypocrites" and "red-nosed angels?"

I suppose Mr. Watterson meant by "red-nosed angels," church people in general and preachers in particular. But people who live in glass houses ought not to throw stones. Suppose Mr. Watterson had lived in the days of Jefferson and one morning after he had sent in his application for some office in the gift of this saint of Democracy, he had read the following lines in some daily paper from the pen of this father of Democracy:

"The habit of using ardent spirits by men in office has occasioned more trouble to me than all other causes. were I to commence my administration again the first question I would ask respecting a candidate for office would be, does he use ardent spirits?"

This sounds like the father of Democracy believed not only in legal, but also in prohibition.

There is a growing suspicion among the good people of this State, of all parties, that the Courier-Journal is the paid advocate of the liquor interests. But the idea of a great Democratic paper that misrepresents in the clothes of Jefferson and the professed enemy of the trusts becoming the tool of one of the greatest and most diabolical of all trusts is alarming—a trust which Abraham Lincoln (whom Mr. Watterson highly honors in one of his lectures) foresaw and predicted would impose a curse, a burden as bondage on the American people more terrible than African ones.

Most disgusting skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, blood due to impure blood, blood Bitter is a clear, healthy tonic. Makes you feel clear-brained, clear-sighted. See advertisement of the University, Lexington.

TEMPERANCE RALLY.

Election in Morehead Precinct
No. 7 Called Off.

The rally of the citizens of Rowan county, on County Court day, on the Campus, was well attended. Eloquent speeches were made by Judge James E. Stewart, Hon. Will A. Young, Hon. T. W. Rose and Rev. C. M. Humphrey. J. W. Riley presided over the meeting. Rev. A. G. Alderson offered prayer and the choirs of the churches rendered inspiring music. In the afternoon the petition for a vote by the liquor interest in precinct No. 7 was withdrawn. The motion to hold an election in the entire county, however, was made and recorded. This move is in the interest of the temperance element.—The Mountaineer.

The New School Law For Electing Trustees.

The new law in regard to electing trustees is as follows:

On the first Saturday in August, 1908, an election shall be held at the school building in each school district of this Commonwealth from the hours of one until five o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of electing one trustee for each school district, both colored and white. The trustees then elected shall hold their offices, one-half for one year and one-half for two years, as shall be determined by lot at the first meeting of the division board. Each year thereafter there shall be elected for two years one trustee in each school district in which the term of his predecessor in office will then expire. Said trustees shall serve until their successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified.

Any person shall be eligible to this office of school trustee who is over twenty-one years of age, and who has been a resident of the district for which he is elected for sixty days before the election, and who is able to read and write, as shown by a certificate of five reputable citizens of the district, and all male persons over twenty-one years of age, who shall have resided in the school district for sixty days next before an election, shall have the right to vote at such election.

All elections for school trustees shall be by ballot. Said ballot shall contain no emblem nor device of any kind by which it may be identified or known, and the ballot shall be printed and furnished by the County Clerk of each county and paid for out of the county levy. But said ballot shall provide blank spaces whereby such electors may vote for or elect another than those whose names are printed upon said ballot.

All nominations for school trustees shall be by petition, signed by at least ten persons eligible to vote in elections for such trustees, and no name shall be placed upon any ballot unless such nominating petition is filed with the County Clerk of the county in which such election is held at least ten days prior to the date of such election.

The officers of said election shall be a clerk and two judges, and shall be appointed by the regular election commissioners in each county and shall receive no compensation for their services.

The said officers shall be the judges of the qualification of each voter as prescribed in this act, and shall certify the returns of election to the County Superintendent of Schools within five days after said election.

M. J. GOODWIN,
County Superintendent of Schools.

BRYAN TIPPED As Winner With a Republican Senate.

Chicago, Ill., July 12.—Walter Wellman's special to the Record-Herald says:

The hero worshipers recrowned Bryan. Then Bryan wrote and flattered the vote-winning platform and named the somewhat common-place but always loyal Kern to stand on it with him.

All the convention wanted to know was what Bryan wanted, both as to platform and as to second place, and it was ready to give it to him.

The Democracy are not superstitious; they have the courage of logged persistency. They chose for Presidential candidate a twice defeated one and nanette—a instance—for running, or the twice defeated aspirant State Governorship of the of Indiana.

Some discontented candidate is not Vice Presidential, but a general of Presidential adds no strength feeling that it's not a load to be to the cart that in this respect a carried, ice is made at Denver better made at Chicago.

Juston of Gompers that labor debt to swing in and ratify the is of Denver in giving them an junction contract, whereas Chicago gave them a gold brick.

Hopeful predictions of an impending revolution in the West, starting with Indiana, and talk also of support from Eastern "interests" which like the idea of a Democratic President, a Republican Senate, no legislation and a rest for four years.

Low Wages In Germany.

Consul General Richard Gunther reports that the "Exposition of hand-made home manufacturers" now being held at Frankfort indicates very low wages for the persons earned for the German trade. Women earn thirty-eight cents for knitting a dozen pairs of gloves which absorbs four days' work of ten hours each, thus amounting less than one cent per pair.

Some of the districts busy themselves during the winter by weaving hand looms bed ticking and coarse weavers earn on an average one and one-fifth to four and one-sixth cents per hour's work.

In Mainz and Worms, along the River Rhine, women are employed in darning old bags, their pay being three-fifths to one and one-fifth cents per sack. The highest wages a woman can earn in one day is twenty-eight and one-half cents.

Woodenware (trunks, spades, ladles, spoons, clothespins, shoes, etc.) made by home labor in the German mountain districts are on view in the exposition hall. The persons making these articles earn two and two-fifths to two and three-fifths cents per hour's work. Wooden animals and other ornamental carvings (pipes, clock cases, penholders, etc.), showing artistic talent and deftness on the part of the worker, yield two and three-fifths to three and one-tenth cents per hour's work.

In one district where high-grade pipes are manufactured the superior skill of the workers, who are graduates of the woodcarving school, yield two and seven-eighths to seven cents per hour's work.

At the Kentucky Bar Association last week Jno. R. Allen, of Lexington, was elected president and R. A. Childs, of this city, 7th vice president.

GOOD CROP

Indicated By July Government Reports.

A special from New York says: The three most important influences contributing to strengthen the stock market last week were a good crop report, the dissipation of political uncertainty and an easy money market.

The July Government estimates indicated 2,720,000,000 bushels of corn, which would be 130,000,000 bushels more than last year. The wheat crop is estimated at 692,700,000 bushels, or 58,000,000 bushels in excess of last year. The promise for oats is 1,012,000,000, a bumper yield and comparing with 734,000,000 bushels a year ago. In addition to a full grain harvest the cotton crop promises to be abundant, present estimates being about 13,000,000 bales. The fruit crops, too, are better than usual.

FARMERS PROSPER.

Since prices for nearly all agricultural products are high, especially corn, our farmers are assured of another prosperous year. Cotton and wheat are cheaper than a year ago.

Outside of the agricultural situation there are visible signs of improvement.

Convicts Paroled.

The Board of Prison Commissioners met in Frankfort Tuesday of last week in regular monthly session. Four paroles were granted. The paroled are: Wm. L. Osborn, Johnson county, sent in 1905, to serve twenty-one years for manslaughter; Farmer Gilbert, Breathitt county, sent in 1901, for murder; Gillies Prather, Garrard county, sent in 1899 to serve twenty-one years for manslaughter; Leander Hodge, Montgomery county, sent in 1901 to serve a life term for the murder of Guy Moore, a negro.

High Character Counts.

All other counts in this, as in all other communities, A good man dies in the prime of life, and in the midst of multifarious activities, and the representative men of the city hasten to show their appreciation of his life-work, for no man of brains and conscience works merely for himself. He helps build up the community, and raises the standard of conduct for all other men.—Mexican Herald.

A Proper Kick.

"Well," exclaimed the arden of the prison, "what are you kicking about now?" "I'm kicking about this striped suit," complained the new convict. "All the silly dudes are going for stripes now, and it's a shame to make us wear 'em."

CAT LOVED BY ALL

FELINE THE PET OF NORTH CAROLINA TOWN.

Splendid Act of Puss at Right Moment Always Remembered, and Whole City Mourned at Her Obsequies.

When the train crew found that it was "Emma" they had run over, one dark night in Asheville, about ten days ago, they all gathered about the spot in that last-of-its-kind attitude which the might have assumed about the grave of a departed great man.

Emma was only a cat, but a cat known widely in North Carolina. She had been most tenderly cared for and pampered since the night of the Emma township burglary in 1901, when she saved the life of one man and caused the hanging of two others.

One black night a clerk named H. H. Alexander, who slept in the store-keeping office building, was called to the door by loud knocking. On opening it, he was confronted by two masked men, who pointed guns at him and ordered him to open the safe. Alexander was scarcely more than a boy, and he had to obey, though the men contained a large sum of money. As he knelt on the floor to get at the combination, he revolved in his mind schemes to foil the robbers, but, with those blood barrels trained on his back hair, he decided to reject them all.

As the door swung open, one robber laid his revolver on top of the safe and stepped up to see what was inside. Emma, who until then had been sleeping things with alarm from behind the stove, chose that moment to act. Using a sugar barrel for a catapult, she leaped at the crouching robber, upset his equilibrium and passed her needle-like claws up and down his face twice or three times.

The other robber turned his head in alarm. It was only an instant, but in that instant Alexander had snatched the revolver from the safe, and shot the man who was flinching off the cat. The other robber leaped on the clerk and wrestled with him for the sugar barrel. Alexander was beaten on the head and shot in several places, and when the desperados thought he was dead, they made off without stopping for the booty.

Neighbors were alarmed by the noise of the firing and scuffle, and a posse was on its way to the trail while it was fresh. Before daylight it captured not only the two robbers, but two accomplices. All four were sentenced to be hanged, but the last minute the accomplices got off with life imprisonment. Alexander got well finally. At one time when it seemed certain that he must die, a girl to whom he was engaged married him. After his recovery the government rewarded his bravery with a place in the postal service.

The postmaster, D. J. McLeelan, appointed Emma official mouse at the store, with all the privileges and emoluments of the place. When she was run over the trainmen brought her body to the store, and next day she was buried with imposing ceremonies and a funeral which nearly every body in town attended. She was the mother of 172 kittens, but, as is well known, only one is alive to date. That kitten would probably be harder to buy than a child of the same age.

Capital Flowers Bloom.
The state capitol park's largest flower bed, a strip of tulips 149 feet long, is just commencing to burst into bloom and this latest feature of the park is being much admired.

This flower bed has been laid out right at the edge of the plaza which faces the capitol and extends from the center of one wing of the great building to the other, being broken only in the center by the 50-foot-wide walk. It was laid out last fall by Superintendent Rambo, and is a most effective decoration, facing as it does the stately building across a great pavement of concrete 500 feet long by 100 feet wide. The bed contains 4,000 tulips, almost all red, and practically every plant is in bloom.—Philadelphia Press.

Wanted Source of Supply.

Aunt Tillie, cook in a Georgia household, took home a dish of macaroni from the "white folks' table for her own family, and after assuring them that it was good induced her children to eat it. The next morning she discovered two of the children out in the yard turning over stones and boards and scratching vigorously in the earth. "Hiyah, boy," she called. "What you all 'out' out dah?" "We 'aunting,'" came the glad response. "Ioh mo' dem macaroni worms."

Machine Counts Money.

A machine that will count money has been produced by an Australian inventor. The coins are thrown into a funnel at the top of the machine and slide downward, alighting on a spiral track. This track has a raised border containing slots corresponding to the size of the various coins. As each coin slides on the track it passes through the slot corresponding to its denomination and drops into a basket.

Study at Home.

"Maud graduated from your cooking school last spring, didn't she?" "Yes, but she's going to take a post-graduate course next fall." "Going back to the same school again?" "Oh, no; she's to be married to a poor young man."—Catholic Standard and Times.

THE CHILD AND THE BIBLE.

Writer in Appleton's Makes Suggestions Worth Considering.

The Bible is not a dreary book. It is a cheerful book. It is not a dull book. It is an intensely interesting book. Not all parts of it are appropriate reading for children. Why should they be? Some parts are not even fit for children to read. The Bible must be given to children with discrimination. Just as should any other literature. Your boy will be just as much interested in Bible stories as in any other stories, unless you frighten him away from them. Also you will find that he wants the real Bible stories, not somebody's imitation. It is sometimes preferred "Diamond Dick" or "The Boy Pirate," or its like, it does not show that Bible stories do not interest him. It shows simply that you must use some tact in competing with the author of "Diamond Dick." The Bible stories do his good, and "Diamond Dick" does not. Naturally he does not want to be done good to all the time, any more than do the rest of us.

Instead of making him memorize the Bible for punishment, let him memorize carefully selected passages in place of some other work. He may not thank you at the time, but he will some time. It will give him a heritage of pleasure and profit upon which he may draw at will for the rest of his life. Don't give him the idea that every Bible story is a moral lesson. Some Bible stories are no more moral than some newspaper stories. If you confuse the moral and the historical you may grow up in doubt as to whether an Amalekite is a sin or a man. No matter what the theologians may have said to the contrary, it is not sacrilegious to treat the Bible humanely. In fact, it seems to us sacrilegious to treat it any other way. Perhaps you were made wretched in your childhood by having the Bible unintelligently crammed down your throat. Perhaps you were made to feel that the Bible was a way of punishment. That that was not the best way to make you fond of it, never occurred to your parents. They had never heard of child psychology. Perhaps you were threatened with hell unless you believed every word in the Bible true in its narrowest, its most literal sense. Perhaps you remember family prayers where your father read from the Bible in a dreary monotone the rest of you sat in awe and silence. From all this dreariness you wish to protect your child, and no wonder! But that is no reason for depriving him of the real Bible—Appleton's Magazine.

Improved Matrimonial Conditions.

Dr. L. C. Halliburton, the noted English statistician, discussing in New York the statistics of marriage-marriage statistics are his specialty. "The last statistics," he said, "show us one pleasant change, and one improvement. Aged men of wealth are no longer marrying beautiful, mercenary young women so frequently as they used. In fact, the marriages are becoming in this country so rare that the newspapers don't hesitate to comment very freely upon them. I approve of this. The cruel community. They keep such mockeries of marriage down." Halliburton said smilingly, "I have never known a man, in my life," he said, "a millionaire of 75 married a young and pretty milliner of 22. The local paper printed the next day the editorial paragraph on the matter: 'Six months ago, when Mr. Blank's venerable wife died, his children and grandchildren feared that he would go crazy over her sad bereavement. Their fears have now come true.'"

Submarines for Sponge Fishing.

Illustrations, together with a full description, are given in a Parisian journal of a novel type of submarine intended for the sponge-fishing industry in the coast of Tunis. The vessel is built wholly of iron and is 16.4 feet in length by 5.24 feet in diameter, the general form being cylindrical, with hemispherical ends. It is intended to carry two men, and is fixed so as to enable the vessel to move along the sea bottom. An electric lamp with reflectors fixed in front will serve to illuminate the bed of the sea, and a fluted spig-hole in the bow of the vessel enables the crew to seek out and gather the sponges.

Spokes and Tires.

John D. Rockefeller has one virtue which even his greatest critics won't deny him. He doesn't affect public dinners. The secret of this abstinence he recently confided to his family physician. "In the first place," he said, "if you don't have to eat at such feasts," protested the doctor. "In the second place," replied J. D., "but you do have to sit through the speeches, and there's anything I dread it's that sort of thing. To my mind an after-dinner speech is like a bicycle wheel; the longer the spoke the greater the tire."

On Mount Etna.

The character of the climate of the earth can be detected—the frigid close around one, the temperate with its belt of trees just underneath and the tropical at the base of the mountain, with its vineyards and luxuriant groves. The great ocean around, with the islands of Lipari, Pantelleria, Stromboli and Vulcano, with their smoking summits, appear under your feet, and you look down upon the whole of Sicily as upon a map.—Exchange.

BRYAN AND KERN

Ticket Nominated by the National Democratic Convention.

WORK AT DINNER CONCLUDED

Nebraska Sage Nominated Amidst Scenes of the Greatest Enthusiasm. The Platform, Addresses of Temporary and Permanent Chairmen and Scenes and Incidents.

THE TICKET.
For President—WILLIAM J. BRYAN of Nebraska.
For Vice President—JOHN W. KERN of Indiana.

Denver, July 10.—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska was nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the Democratic national convention amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all-night session, which was kept to a constant state of turmoil up to the culminating moment when the Nebraska leader was proclaimed the choice of the convention as the Democratic standard bearer.

The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing: William J. Bryan 3024, Governor John A. Johnson 16, Judge George Gray 593.

The announcement of the vote was the signal for a wild demonstration, equaling in turbulence not in duration, the record breaking display which on Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Mr. Bryan's name in the convention.

"The scene within the amphitheater at the moment the nomination was made was one of stirring jubilation. From pit to dome the vast audience was packed with 10,000 people. It was a scene of grandiose emotion—thrills of triumph and glory on every face of waiting faces, the women in white, the delegates massed below, many of them countless a myriad of faces turning to catch the stirring scene. The atmosphere of this long night of exertion and excitement was ready to spring into feverish outbursts of enthusiasm, and everywhere the blaze of flame, burning and pulsing with demonstrative evidence of approval. His concluding passage was a fervid tribute to the country, and the intrepid leader had borne aloft the battle-scarred flag of Democracy through the campaign of 1906 and 1908, with the devotion and faith of the crusaders of old days. "America's great commoner, Nebraska's first son, William J. Bryan."

This was the signal for a long continued uproar, rivaling in intensity and duration the demonstration of Wednesday, which lasted a hour and 26 minutes. Again the vast assembly was heaved into a fury of excitement. The delegates seated the sides toward the platform, where there was a serious danger of panic. Men and women were bowled over by the mad onrush of flag-bearing enthusiasts. One woman fainted and was carried from the hall.

The nomination of Governor John Johnson of Minnesota precipitated another outbreak of excitement. For a long sustained, hardly less enthusiastic for Bryan. The delegation from Minnesota, seated in their chairs and waving flags, handkerchiefs, hats and anything that could be waved, were the storm center of frequent demonstrations of approval.

The Gray nomination also received its full share of enthusiastic approval, although the nominating speech of Irving L. Handy of Delaware was frequently interrupted by the impatient crowd, and finally by the arrival of the delegates from the state of New York. When New York was reached in the roll of states the announcement of Chief Marshall "Devil" Clark's nomination was greeted with a shout of approval. A further delay was caused by a demand for a roll of the New York delegation. On this roll many of the delegates were called, including Judges Alton B. Parker, the presidential nominee four years ago, remained silent, but the entire 75 vote of the delegation went east for Bryan under the "unit rule."

Pennsylvania was similarly called, after sharp dissenting voices, the delegation and the vote of Pennsylvania as finally cast was divided.

Prior to the culminating scene in the convention when the nomination of Bryan was made the assembly had listened for hours to the oratory of nominating speakers, who proved them themselves to be of a fervent excitement. It had been expected that the platform would be ready for adoption at 7 o'clock in the evening, when the final session began. But at that hour the committee on resolutions was still struggling with the plank relating to the currency, the tariff, the Mormon question and other important subjects. A committee appointed by the convention to learn how soon the platform would be ready reported that it would be midnight before the document was ready for the consideration of the convention. Accordingly, on motion of Congressman Ollie James of Kentucky, the regular order of procedure was suspended and the convention proceeded to call the roll of states for nominations for the presidency, with the understanding that the nominating and seconding speeches would be made without a final vote until the platform had been adopted.

At 9 o'clock the nominating speeches began and delegates and spectators were stirred with eager expectancy as the supreme and long deferred work of nominating the presidential candidate was begun.

Alabama, the first state on the roll call, yielded to Nebraska, the home state of Mr. Bryan, who spoke as the youthful orator, Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha, advanced to the platform. Speaking in good voice, with great earnestness and to the sympathy of the audience, which greeted each utterance of tribute to the Nebraska leader with a shout of approval.

one occupying it can afford to have his views upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing this responsibility to God and his obligation to his constituency, he has entered on the discharge of his duties with singleness of purpose. Believing that one can best do this when he is not planning for a second term, I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected I shall not be a candidate for reelection. This is a nomination as purely from the people as can be, and if elected my obligation will be as purely to the people. I appreciate the honor of the nomination, but it came not from one person or a few persons but from the rank and file acting freely and without compulsion. "I am very much pleased with the platform. It is clear, specific and strong, and I am grateful to the convention for the work it has done in stating the issues. I am sure that the platform will greatly strengthen us in the fight we are entering."

JOHN W. KERN

Indiana Man is Nominated for Vice President.

Denver, July 10.—The final session Friday of the Democratic convention, Hon. John W. Kern of Indiana was nominated for vice president by acclamation. His name was presented to the convention by Delegate Marshall and was seconded by a host of delegates, including Governor Frank B. Rowland of Missouri, Charles A. Towne of New York, Clark Howell of Georgia and Archibald McNeill of Connecticut.

As the call of states proceeded it soon became evident that the Indiana man would land. The names of "Towne, Howell and McNeill" were withdrawn and Kern was nominated by acclamation.

CLAYTON

Addresses Convention When Presented As Permanent Chairman.

In assuming the duties of permanent chairman of the Democratic convention, Henry D. Clayton of Alabama said: "The Republican party, having had full control of the federal government for more than a decade, must give an account of its stewardship. Its pretensions claims will not suffice. Let honest investigation reveal the bad and defective laws passed by that party; let policies maintained; let the consequences be made known; let the public be made aware of the consequences of its failure to meet its obligations to the people. Let the public be made aware of the consequences of its failure to meet its obligations to the people."

Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—The following statement was made by William J. Bryan when he was nominated as the Democratic party for president.

The presidency is the highest official position in the world and no

the candid public judgment. To that judgment the issue must be committed, and we unhesitatingly submit our cause to that fine and true sense for the light we know distinguishes the American people.

In this quadrennial contest Mr. Roosevelt has identified himself with Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft has identified himself with Mr. Roosevelt. The Republican party has inseparably identified the two together. To praise one is to praise the other; to criticize one is to criticize his pursuing shadow.

What are the policies that constitute the capital of the Republican party in this campaign and that are relied upon to support the candidacy of Mr. Taft? To recall Democratic platform speeches and measures is to convince any man that many of the president's public utterances were derived from an avowed familiarity with the teachings of his party. His utterances that are Democratic have given him his only claim to be a reformer, and the Republican party has enjoyed the popularity he has enjoyed.

The help and the party are committed to "unflinching adherence to the policies of the past. What are these policies and what are the achievements of president and party? Mr. Clayton then reviewed unfavorably

the national Democratic convention adopted the following declaration of principles:

We, the representatives of the Democratic party, assembled in convention assembled, reaffirm our belief and pledge our loyalty to the principles of the Democratic party. We reduce to the barest essentials of an adequate government. The various investigations have traced the cause of our economic distress to the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency.

The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency. The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency.

The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency. The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency.

The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency. The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency.

CHAIRMAN BELL

Delivers the Keynote Address at the Opening Session.

Theodore A. Bell of California, in assuming his duties as temporary chairman of the national Democratic convention, said the party key note as follows:

The public conscience is demanding honesty of purpose in the men who undertake to direct the affairs of this country. It is demanding honesty of purpose in the men who undertake to direct the affairs of this country. It is demanding honesty of purpose in the men who undertake to direct the affairs of this country.

The Democratic idea is that where the tariff exists the trusts to maintain a system of extortion the tariff should be removed from all trusts made goods, so that competition from abroad may compel reasonable prices to our own people. There is a vast difference between the protection of the country and the protection of criminal monopolies.

THE PLATFORM.

Declaration of Principles Adopted by National Democratic Convention.

The national Democratic convention adopted the following declaration of principles:

We, the representatives of the Democratic party, assembled in convention assembled, reaffirm our belief and pledge our loyalty to the principles of the Democratic party. We reduce to the barest essentials of an adequate government. The various investigations have traced the cause of our economic distress to the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency.

The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency. The cause of our economic distress is the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency, the excessive issue of currency.

On Sunday there were 22 in the Woman's Bible Class at Christian Church.
Rev. C. W. Dick, who for eight years has been pastor of the North Middletown Christian Church, on Sunday resigned his pastorate for immediate acceptance. His plans for the future are not known to us.
The regular Quarterly Meeting was held at Camargo Methodist Church on Saturday morning and afternoon, Sunday morning and afternoon. Revs. E. L. Southgate, E. G. B. Mann and the pastor, Rev. C. F. Oney, did the preaching. There was a large attendance and much interest was manifested. Dinner was served on the ground on Saturday.
The Bible Schools of the Christian Churches in Montgomery county will hold their annual Conference in this city on Thursday, August 6, forenoon, and afternoon. A fine program will be presented. An urgent request is extended to the officers and teachers of every school to be present. Effective work of the Conference depends on your presence and hearty co-operation. Further details later.
A preacher recently deplored the disloyalty of many professed Christians and urged the importance of fidelity. One of the sure ways to drift from the truth, said the minister, is to do nothing, just to live a meaningless life. The natural tendency of life is towards evil, and anyone who sits down, does nothing and drifts with the tide of times will depart from the way of truth and lose the sweetness and the broadness of an active loyal life.
Arrangements for the Union Evangelistic meeting by Rev. Wharton are being perfected. The preaching will be in a tent erected in the lawn of Dr. Ricketts' Mayville street property. The first service will be held on Sunday evening. Executive Committee is composed of the following: Methodist Church, Jno. S. Frazer, Jno. G. Winn, Elisia Robinson; Christian Church, Dr. Shirley, J. L. McCormick, R. M. Trimble; Presbyterian Church, Drs. Simrall and Vansant, W. P. Apperson; Baptist Church, W. A. Sutton, Dr. W. R. Thompson, W. P. Guthrie; Episcopal Church, Harry Campbell Roger Gatewood. A large chorus will be led by the choirs of all the churches, assisted by others. Preliminary to this, there will be a union prayer meeting at the Christian Church, led by Rev. J. L. Weber on Wednesday evening, and a choir meeting at same place on Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. to arrange plans.

DEATHS.

RICHARDSON.—Donald Richardson, aged 23 years, youngest son of J. W. Richardson, of Hope, in this county, died of typhoid fever on Thursday, July 9, 1908, at 3 o'clock.
GLOVER.—Mrs. Ed Glover died at her home on Flat Creek on Tuesday, July 7th, 1908. For many years she has been paralyzed and later had tuberculosis. She leaves a husband and three children. The burial was at Springfield.

FORD.—Mrs. E. L. Ford, of Detroit, Mich., is dead. She and her daughters recently gave $10,000 for the Industrial building of Hazel Green Academy. The Advocate recently gave account of this building. Mrs. Ford died June 28 and Rev. Derthick who was visiting in Ohio, assisted in funeral service.

PAGE.—Mrs. Rosalind Page, aged 83, died in Winchester Tuesday night, July 7. The body was interred in Maclellan cemetery in this city Thursday morning. Her husband died several years ago. They formerly lived in our county. Mrs. Page is a sister of Mrs. Sarah Huffman and Misses Nancy and Melissa Garrett, of this county. J. R. Garrett, of Georgetown, who attended the funeral is her brother.

ROGERS.—Captain Chas. S. Rogers suffered death from a street car accident in Danville, Ill., on the evening of the 7th inst. Mr. Rogers was well and favorably known by our older citizens, when he was one of our active business men. Besides his family, those who will grieve over his death are those who soldiered with him in the Civil War, he having served as Captain in the 10th Kentucky Cavalry with distinction and bravery. He was very fond of his entire company. He was buried in Danville, Ill., on the morning of the 9th inst. at 9 o'clock. Captain Rogers was a brother of T. F. Rogers, of this city.

EMBURY.—James Embury died at Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington on Thursday, July 9, 1908, whether he had been taken from Mt. Sterling on the preceding Monday. He is a brother of Mrs. Malinda Mitchell, and while visiting her at the home of Bruce Young near town was attacked with a severe case of flux. As his condition was critical and there were other sicknesses at the home, his removal to hospital was deemed advisable. For thirty years he has lived at Wharton, Texas. While visiting his son, Jacob, in Fayette county he came to see his sister, Mrs. Mitchell. He was 78 years of age, a follower of the Christ, educated at Bethany College. His remains were buried at his Texas home, where several of his children live.

THE SICK.

David Birch for 4 weeks sick with typhoid fever is improving but not able to sit up.

On Saturday a letter was received from J. W. Holden at Louisville stating that his daughter, Mrs. McKee, was dangerously sick. Her condition has not improved. A letter written on Monday says that she is very weak and that an operation for appendicitis would be performed if she regained sufficient strength. The friends of the family will regret to hear of her danger.

NOLAND-CREED.
R. S. Noland, of Winchester, and Miss Edith Creed, of Stanton, Ky., were married in Lexington, on July 2, by Rev. E. G. B. Mann, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Webb. Morton Ramey, his uncle, of this county, attended.

GLOVER-DONNOHUE.
The Oklahoma City Times says: "Mr. Richard G. Glover and Miss Anna Belle Donnohue were quietly married last week at the parsonage of St. Luke's, the Rev. Dr. Percy Knickerbocker officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Chas. H. Donnohue, and her beautiful voice has made her a great success in musical circles as her personality has won her friends in the social circles of the city. She was groomed in her traveling suit, and the young couple left on the morning train for Guthrie, where they will make their future home. Mr. Glover formerly resided in this city and is a young man of sterling business qualifications, and the manager of the J. W. Jenkins music house at Guthrie. He also is a most accomplished singer, and he, as well as his bride, has a large circle of friends in the city who will join in many congratulations and good wishes. They will be at home to their friends at Guthrie, Oklahoma."

The contracting parties are well known here in their native town, and many friends wish for them much happiness and success.

Rev. John R. Deering Has Painful Accident.

Rev. John R. Deering, presiding elder of the Shelbyville district, M. E. Church, south, had the misfortune to break his right arm Saturday night, at Bloomfield, Nelson county. In the dark he mistook the distance in stepping from the portico at the house of a friend and fell on his arm, fracturing at the elbow joint. It is the same arm that was shattered by a bullet during the Civil War.

Parsonage Bought.

On Monday a committee representing the Grassy Lick and Camargo Methodist churches closed a deal for the residence property of J. O. Kash on West Main street, price about $1,000, possession given September 1st. This residence is for a parsonage for these congregations. This is an important advance for efficient work, as the pastor can live in our city and be in close touch with both congregations, not only for regular ministry, but for special emergencies.

NO END OF PEACHES.

Georgia Crop This Year is Greater Than Ever.

Figures compiled by the Southern railway for June show that the peach crop in Georgia this year was the largest in a decade from the standpoint of the number of cars shipped to Northern and Western points by way of Louisville. Up to July 1 the Southern railway alone handled 1,658 cars of the fruit, and the shipments so far this month are holding up even better. As compared with last year the figures make that crop look like a small orchard working under time. During June, 1907, the total shipment of Georgia peaches to Northern points was only twenty-eight cars. The shipment this year was fifty-eight times greater, the number of cars in excess that were hauled being 1,610. When the entire crop has been picked it should run ahead of last year by more than a million bushels. The officials of the Southern railway attribute a part of the increased Northern haul to the adequate and exceptional facilities which have been provided this year for moving the crop. It is being taken to Northern points on almost express time and the peach trains in many instances have been given rights of way over local passenger trains. The fruit is arriving at its destinations in first-class condition.

The improved demand for cars has reduced the idle cars to 10 or 12 per cent. of the car supply of the country.

It virtually has been settled that the Taft notification will take place in Cincinnati, July 25.

DEATHS OF PRESIDENTS.

Three Slain By Assassins, the Others Taken Off By a Variety of Ills.

THREE DIED ON JULY 4.
Jno. Adams and Thos. Jefferson Died On Same Day.

Three of the nation's presidents met death by assassination. The others suffered from a variety of ills, says the Detroit Free Press. John Adams was the oldest of the presidents, being ninety-one at his death.

This is the way the presidents died:

George Washington—His death was the result of a severe cold contracted while riding around his farm in a rain and sleet storm on December 10, 1799. The cold increased and was followed by a chill, which brought on acute laryngitis. His death occurred on December 14, 1799. He was sixty-eight years of age.

John Adams—He died from old age, having reached his ninety-first milestone. Though active mentally, he was nearly blind and unable to hold a pen steady enough to write. He passed away without pain on July 4, 1826.

James Madison—He died of old age, and peacefully, on June 28, 1836. His faculties were undimmed. He was eighty-five.

James Monroe—His death occurred in the seventy-third year of his age on July 4, 1831. Enfeebled health was the cause of death.

Thomas Jefferson—He died at the age of eighty-three, a few hours before Adams, on July 4, 1826. His disease was chronic diarrhoea, superinduced by old age, and by the too free use of the waters of the White Sulphur Springs.

John Quincy Adams—He was stricken with paralysis on February 21, 1848, while addressing the speaker of the house of representatives, being at the time a member of congress. He died in the rotunda of the capitol. He was eighty-one years of age.

Andrew Jackson—Died on June 8, 1845, seventy-eight years old. He suffered from consumption and dropsy.

Martin Van Buren—He passed away on July 24, 1862, from a violent attack of asthma. He was eighty years of age.

William Henry Harrison—The cause of his death was pleurisy, the result of a cold which he caught on the day of his inauguration. This was accompanied with severe diarrhoea. His death occurred on April 4, 1841, one month after his inauguration. He was sixty-eight years of age.

John Tyler—He died on January 17, 1862, at the age of seventy-two. Cause not given.

James K. Polk—In the spring of 1849 he was stricken with a slight attack of cholera while on a boat going up the Mississippi river. Though temporarily relieved, he had a relapse and died on June 15, 1849, aged fifty-four years.

Zachary Taylor—He was the second president to die in office. He is said to have taken immediately of ice water and iced milk, and then later of a large quantity of cherries. The result was an attack of cholera morbus. Another authority attributed his death to a severe cold. The former seems the more likely. He was sixty-six years of age.

Millard Fillmore—Died from a stroke of paralysis on March 8, 1871, in his seventy-fourth year. Franklin Pierce—His death was due to abdominal dropsy, and occurred on October 8, 1869, in his sixty-fifth year.

James Buchanan—His death occurred on June 1, 1868, and was caused by rheumatic gout. He was 77 years of age.

Abraham Lincoln—Shot by J.

Wilkes Booth at Ford's theater, Washington, D. C., on April 14, 1865, and died the following day, aged 36.

Andrew Johnson—Died from a stroke of paralysis July 31, 1875, aged 67.

Ulysses S. Grant—Died at Mt. McGregor, N. Y., July 23, 1885, as the result of a cancer at the root of his tongue, aged 63.

Rutherford B. Hayes—Died suddenly at Fremont, O., January 17, 1873, of neuralgia of the heart, in his 71st year.

James A. Garfield—Passed away at Elberon, N. J., September 19, 1881, aged 50, as a result of a wound inflicted by the assassin, Guiteau.

Chester A. Arthur—Died at New York City of heart trouble, November 18, 1886, aged 56.

Benjamin Harrison—Died of pneumonia at Indianapolis March 18, 1901, aged 68 years.

William McKinley—Died at Buffalo, N. Y., September 14, 1901, as the result of assassination, aged 58 years.

Grover Cleveland—Died at Princeton, N. J., June 25, 1908, of a complication of diseases, aged 71 years.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by R. H. White & Co., Druggists. 51-5t

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar, of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill."

Clayton, of Alabama, says Republicans have pretended to adopt opposition's policies, and declares that the good which has been accomplished is due to Democratic principles.

"Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee imitation ever yet produced. This clever Coffee Substitute was recently produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is made from pure roasted grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—who might think it for Coffee. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. Sold by Spot Cash Grocery Co. 51-3t

Robbing Yourself

That is just what you are doing when you fail to get regular and sufficient sleep. Your body requires this unconscious period for repair work; without it your nerve energy becomes exhausted, and you are tired, worn-out, nervous, excitable; have headache, neuralgia, indigestion, poor appetite, or other ailments caused by a lack of nerve force. Make it your business to sleep. If you are restless, take Dr. Miles' Nervine; it soothes and strengthens the nerves, and brings sweet, refreshing, life-giving sleep, and gives the organs power to work naturally. Try it to-day.

"I had a severe spell of fever, which left me in a very weak condition and very nervous. I had severe spells of headache and neuralgia, and could sleep but very little. Every effort that was made to recover my strength was of no avail until I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. After I commenced to take the Nervine my sleep was profound and restful, and the pains in my head, as well as the neuralgic pains, left me to a certain extent and I grew gradually better."

WILLIAM E. GILL, JR., of 821 Berkey Ave., Delvidere, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.
